Stevens' Pharmacy, COR. 9TH AND PA. AVE. Pressure of the Sea.

There are spots in the ocean where the water is five miles deep. If it is true that the pressure of the water on any body in the water is one pound to the square inch for every two feet of the depth anything at the bottom of one of the "five-mile holes" would have a pressure about it of 13,200 feet to every square inch. There is nothing of human manufacture that would nothing of human manufacture that would resist such a pressure. That it exists there is no doubt. It is known that the pressure on a well-corked glass bottle at the depth of 300 feet is so great that the water will force its way through the pores of the glass. It is also said that pleces of wood have been weighted and sunk in the sea to such a depth that the tissues have become so condensed that the wood has lost its buoyancy and would never float again. It could not be even made to burn when dire. Patriotism in Germany.

In Germany they teach patriotism in the popular schools; in England we do not-at any rate, not officially. In Germany the kalser's birthday, the anniversary of Sedan and other national landmarks are celebrated in the national schools. They have feasts and music and excursions; but the feasts and music and excursions; but the children have kept clearly before their eyes the reason for their rejoicings. Indeed, the law impresses upon parents and children that all voluntary absence from these school feasts is an offense. There were parents who kept their children back, were parents who kept their children back, especially from the Sedan commemoration, and this on conscientious grounds. But and this on conscientious grounds. But now no longer: "for," says the magistrate, "any unexcused absence from patriotic fes-tivals established by the school shall be considered as voluntary non-attendance, and inspectors, teachers and the authorities concerned are hereby instructed to this effect."

Patriotism a la pedagogue, perhaps, but patriotism none the less; and the children of a great empire might perhaps do well to take a leaf out of a book made in Germany, Let us imagine the astonishment of the English child if he were told that he was to have a holiday and a fete for the sake of some great event in our own his-

CLOSE GAME OF HIGH SCHOOL NINES

Senators Open a Series in the West Today.

LOCAL WHIST TEAM WINS

Interest in the tennis tournament for the championship of the south yesterday on the courts of the Bachelor Club, M street between Connecticut avenue and 17th street. centered largely in the game of doubles between Goodfellow and C. Wilson against Glazebrook and Wimer. It was found impossible to finish the game on account of darkness. Other games were played in the singles and play in the consolation match was also begun. The scores were as follows:

Singles-Wilson beat Beach, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4; Paret beat Glazebrook, 6-3, 6-2; Davidson beat Goodfellow, 6-0, 5-7, 6-3. Doubles-Warfield and Wilson beat Beach and Marrow, 6-2, 7-5; Wimer and Glaze-brook against Goodfellow and C. A CLOSE CONTEST.

Central High School Nine Defeats the Eastern.

Another game of the Inter-High School championship series was played at National Park yesterday by the Central and Eastern teams, in which the former won by the score of 11-10. The game was simply heart-breaking from start to finish, both in regard to fielding and the nerve racking closeness of the contest. The shining exceptions to the yellowness in the fielding line was the playing of the second basemen of the two teams. Springsguth of the Easterns took care of nine of his ten chances nicely, but Burbank was the especial star, as he accepted all of his twelve chances with snap and precision. The Central's catcher, McKinney, will stand watching, for he has the unmistakable ear-marks of a winner.

Statistics Show on Awful Aggregate of Fatalities. Some idea of the losses suffered by the Spanish regular troops during the present insurrection in Cuba may be formed from the following figures: Between March 1, 1895, and March 1, terday, the Orioles playing at Pittsburg 1897, Spain sent to Cuba 10 generals, 615 and the St. Louis at Chicago, the visiting field and 6,222 subaltern officers and 180, 855 club in each instance proving victorious. soldiers. To these must be added the 12,-000 officers and men forming the regular Cuban establishment at the outbreak of the insurrection, making a total of nearly 200,000. Of these I general, 7 field and 53 subaltern officers, and 1,314 men were killed in battle, 1 general, 6 field and 55 subaltern officers and 704 men died of wounds, while 463 officers and 8,164 men were wounded and presumably recovered. The losses caused by the enemy are then small, being but little more than 5 per cent of the total present for duty. The case is altered, however, in the matter of disease; 218 officers and 13,000 men died of yellow fever, while 127 officers and about 40,000 men succumbed to other maladies have not been sent back to Spain, the number of these left behind must be taken St. Louis, 11; Chiengo, 4.

Both teams hit the ball hard and frequently at Chicago, Decker getting four reason for believing that it cannot fall far short of 20,000. Accepting this estimate, we have a total rate of loss of 521 per thousand for the two years considered; or, men we shall need in order to overcome Spanish resistance on land in the island. It must be recollected that the foregoing figures are only approximately correct, as there is ground for the belief that the Spanish medical returns have purposely misstated, if not understated, the losses of the Spanish army in Cuba. But for that very reason we may feel tolerably sure that the results here given are not in excess of the truth.

Hecht's propose to have another of their old-time "hour sales" tomorrow-and every one who follows Hecht's knows what to expect. Hecht's "hour sales" are entirely different from any others-for Hecht's have just what they advertise-never exaggerate their values. During certain hours tomorrow we will offer you some of the most remarkable values which have ever been known in this city-and which really eclipse any that have ever been offered at any previous sale. During certain hours we turn over our profits to our patrons—give them the advantage of our wholesale prices-save them money. If you carefully read tomorrow's values you will see the reason for the immense crowds which constantly fill the store. Hecht's extend every one the privilege of having his or her purchase "charged"-and permit you

The Maryland boys played with a patched-up team, Harvey, the regular third baseman, doing the pitching, and several new men substituting. Erd, for Gallaudet, pitched fine ball, striking out seven and allowing but six scattered hits. Gallaudet made nine hits, most of them in the fifth inning, when they made five runs and clinched the game

Southern Cycling Championship.

The southern cycling championship will be decided tomorrow afternoon at Charlotte, N. C., at a race meet at that place. The distance is one mile, and the championship is now held by Fred Schade of this city, who won it last year. Several lical boys will compete. Lee Counselman, the winner of the twenty-five mile match race with George E. Smith last Thursday at the Park Cycle track, and W. W. Pittman are already at Charlotte, and will race tomorrow. Schade may get down. He rides in the mile invitation this afternoon at the park, and will then take an examination at the Georgetown Law School. Southern Cycling Championship.
